Questions 1 to 2

Standardized Tests need to be made accessible to the blind. The questions are usually based on a set of defined parameters defined first and then there are a set of questions for each section. Many legal questions use a column of law with reference numbers. Below I have placed the Gettysburg Address in that format to show that two columns of legal text can be made accessible to the blind.

| 5 | Four score and seven years ago our fathers brought forth on this continent, a new nation, conceived in Liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal. | 20 | here, have consecrated it, far above our poor power to add or detract. The world will little note, nor long remember what we say here, but it can never forget what they did here. It is for us the |
| 10 | Now we are engaged in a great civil war, testing whether that nation, or any nation so conceived and so dedicated, can long endure. We are met on a great battle-field of that war. We have come to dedicate a portion of that field, as a final resting place for those who here gave their lives that that nation might live. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this. | 25 | living, rather, to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us -- that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion -- that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain -- that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom -- and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth. |
| 15 | But, in a larger sense, we can not dedicate -- we can not consecrate -- we can not hallow -- this ground. The brave men, living and dead, who struggled | 30 | |

Generally complex tests also include several conditional references to the first paragraph. These conditions are usually all grouped together in the tab order as one paragraph but you want the blind to access each condition separately if their screen reader has that ability.

- Condition 1
- Condition 2
- Condition 3
