

POSITION VACANCY ANNOUNCEMENT

Position: Staff Attorney
Location: Miami or Tallahassee, Florida
Program: Criminal Justice Reform

Overview:

The Southern Poverty Law Center's Criminal Justice Reform practice group focuses primarily on (1) reforming the juvenile, criminal justice and immigration enforcement systems so they operate fairly and equitably; (2) ensuring the dignity and humanity of those interacting with these systems; and (3) reducing the population of individuals detained and incarcerated in the states where we work.

This position will focus on advancing criminal justice reform in Florida. Subjects of litigation may include, for example, addressing unconstitutional conditions in Florida's juvenile, adult, and immigrant detention facilities; advancing sentencing reform; and combating the effects of over-policing, the denial of due process in the criminal justice system, racial disparities, and collateral consequences of justice system involvement.

The United States' mass incarceration problem extends beyond just incarceration under criminal laws—it also includes the civil incarceration of noncitizens. Each year the United States detains just over 350,000 people in connection with civil immigration laws. Our legal team's work includes campaigns and litigation to improve conditions of confinement in immigrant prisons (including medical and mental health care, violence, excessive heat, poor sanitation, failure to protect from harm, First Amendment rights, etc.); end solitary confinement; ensure people detained in immigration prisons have access to counsel; and end the privatization of immigrant prisons.

The Staff Attorney will litigate individual and class action cases raising constitutional and statutory claims in federal and Florida courts, at both the trial and appellate level. S/he may engage in legislative work and public advocacy. The focus of the position may change as warranted by changes in the law, the circumstances in Florida, or the needs of the organization.

Responsibilities:

- Litigate cases and work on campaigns under supervision of the Senior Supervising Attorney;
- Research legal and policy issues related to criminal justice reform, including immigration detention and imprisonment;
- Draft briefs, motions, memos, and other documents in support of litigation and policy work;
- Communicate regularly with SPLC's clients, co-counsel, and partner organizations;
- Represent SPLC in various forums, including before community groups, legislators, and state agencies;
- Respond to requests for legal assistance; and
- Other duties as may be assigned to meet SPLC needs.

Qualifications (Education and Related Work Experience):

- Juris Doctorate Degree;
- At least two years of federal court civil litigation or comparable legal experience, preferably including litigation of systemic reform cases;
- Strong academic background;
- Excellent research and writing skills; and
- Admission to the Florida Bar or willingness to sit for the next bar exam.
