

Exploring Bonsai with the Visually Impaired

Wednesday, June 25, 10 a.m. – noon

Free with registration | 10 participants (with companion)
Denver Botanic Gardens | York Street Location

People with blindness or low vision are invited to Denver Botanic Gardens for a unique, hands-on experience of the bonsai collection. Explore the Bill Hosokawa Bonsai Pavilion, which includes a 300-year-old tree, with bonsai artists. Then, discover all that the Sensory Garden has to offer as you engage with sensory-rich plants.

Register by Friday, June 20

DENVER BOTANIC GARDENS
botanicgardens.org

For more information:
Email alyssa.scott@botanicgardens.org