Amazon partners with Reading Is Fundamental to deliver books to more than 27,000 students in grades K-8 across the U.S.

With the start of the 2022-23 school year, more than 27,000 students in grades K-8 will receive new books to own, thanks to a partnership with Reading Is Fundamental

The oldest and largest children's literacy nonprofit in the U.S. Amazon is donating more than 75,000 books and other materials to inspire the joy of reading among students in 200 cities. This partnership underscores Amazon's commitment to inspiring the next generation of lifelong readers by reducing barriers to learning.

The partnership launched during Amazon's Global Month of Volunteering, an initiative dedicated to driving meaningful impact in the communities where employees live and work. For a month, Amazon employees participated in community activities to support causes they care about, including volunteering at local food banks, helping job-seekers build resumes, and emphasizing the importance of equitable access to education. Amazon also worked with organizations across the country to support students, teachers, and families as they prepared for the academic year, filling thousands of backpacks with school supplies, hosting virtual reading sessions, and supporting book fairs at local schools.
