Are you looking to work for the premier company in our industry and be a driving force for taking it to the next level? Do you share the passion for our mission of helping those with disabilities find meaningful employment and improve their lives? Are you looking for a values-driven organization where accountability and performance matter? Do you want to be a critical member of the executive leadership team where your strategic thinking, collaboration, and leadership skills will guide performance at all levels of the organization?

Morningside is looking for a well-organized, proactive, and collaborative VP Employment Services/COO. If that sounds like you please consider our opportunity working for an amazing, smaller non-profit (<100 employees) that helps adults with disabilities find meaningful employment in the community.

You would be responsible for the development and overall performance of the Employment Services Division, including leadership, programming, and resource acquisition and management to provide effective, efficient vocational services to individuals with disabilities. Create, implement, modify, and manage policies and procedures to meet accreditation standards and ensure the achievement of the organization's philosophy, mission, and planning direction. Responsible for the direct and/or indirect supervision, direction, and development of Employment Services staff. As Chief Operating Officer advise CEO on strategic program and business development issues and building organizational capacity. As a member of the Leadership Team responsible for actively participating in creating and meeting the organization's overall mission, goals and objectives. Travel required to our WA satellite offices.
