[TESS BELL] 30s-50s, open ethnicity, is one of the best detectives in the city until she unexpectedly quits the force in the pilot, shocking her colleagues. But what Tess isn't telling them is that she is losing her sight. Using a professional video guiding service to navigate beyond her impairment, Tess meets the irrepressible Sunny Patel, the seeing-eye agent who acts as her "eyes" from 3,000 miles away and the two form a bond. Haunted by the case she left behind, Tess uses Sunny to guide her remotely in a search for the missing woman she believes is still alive. Tess chooses to keep her condition a secret at first – but she will ultimately learn that her new partner, Sunny, has a secret agenda of her own: there is a reason Sunny chooses to see for others while staying out of sight herself. And the central question for Tess is, can Sunny be trusted? SERIES LEAD.
